Chain Mail

From: Sapphira <randommongol@y...>

Date: Fri Jun 4, 2004 11:20 am

Subject: Message from Their Majesties

Unto the Populace of our most beloved Kingdom do
We send greetings,

As many of you know, at our First Court this past weekend, an assassination attempt was made on the life of our Queen by Laird Falkirk of Caithness. Laird Falkirk came from an area in Scotland that I had raided prior to becoming your King and apparently he wished Me and Her Majesty ill. By the Grace of God I was quick enough to stop this assailant before he could complete his task. As he fell dying at my feet, stabbed mortally by his own blade, he uttered a blood curse upon my Crown and this Reign. Court was closed and We were escorted to a secure place to tend to Her Majesty.

Truly troubling events indeed! But, what troubles Us even more, is what came in the aftermath. During the course of the rest of the event, common everyday mishaps would occur and We overheard members of the populace blaming it on "The Curse." Personal items were simply misplaced ("It must be the curse!"). Someone tripped on the hem of their garb ("Oh no! The Curse has claimed another!") and so forth. Gentle Lords and Ladies of Trimaris, We, your Crown, would like to take this moment to reassure you, our beloved Populace, that THERE IS NO CURSE and that all is well in hand. Laird Falkirk was indeed an angry, bitter man but that is all he was: a man. He was no divine or supernatural being capable of bestowing "curses" on anyone.

We, your Rulers, ask that you all keep calm and rational and be not quick to attribute any and every small misfortune to a "curse" from a dying madman. May God Keep You in His Grace,

Gunnar II & Anastasiya IV

ARTISAN SEEKS OTHERS FOR BARTER

ISO embroiderers, leatherworkers, musicians, spinsters, other craftspeople who wish to barter their products. I'll trade cooking, sewing, calligraphy, illumination, fabric buttons for your cotehardies, and more. Let's re-create medieval commerce: no money needed. Contact Jen if interested.

Cooks' Guild Corner:

From Romas the Mapmaker, excerpted from his letter on the Oldenfeld-cooks group page, dated June 03,2004.

Yes, the May 16th dishes were all tasty, and Master Jed went all-out with a bunch of different dishes, for which I'll add the recipes to the Yahoo!Group's Files later tonight. We chose Sunday, June 13th for our next meal and chose to do more Spanish recipes in preparation for the volunteer meeting with Mission San Luis on July 24th.

Mistress Mairi, since you are coordinating with the Mission regarding that 'workshop', do you have any suggestions for what else we might come up with for next Sunday? I know Gabrielle has some more sources she's copying, but I'm not sure when she'll get them to you.

See y'all next Sunday!

Bards' Corner

From Ana de Belew, excerpted from her letter on the Oldenfeld group page, dated May 31,2004

Good Gentles of Oldenfeld,

Please come out to Dance Practice tonight (and each Monday night –Ed.) and help the Company of St. Vitus prepare for teaching at the Known World Art Sci. Tonight we will be learning dances from the Inns of Court. If you can walk, you can dance these dances. Really, I promise it's that easy. Dance Practice is held at Myers Park on or near the tennis courts (the fencers practice next to the tennis courts) and will begin at 6:30pm and continue until ~8pm. All ages are welcome. Goodies will be provided. We look forward to seeing you!
